Introduction

The Cambio Platform Innovation is intended for experimenting with patient oriented application development using a standardized backend for health data management. It is not intended to be used to develop an application for production use.

Some use cases for the Cambio Platform Innovation could be:

- To experiment with building a new health app that use openEHR and FHIR APIs
- To analyse the feasibility of migrating to an openEHR-based solution
- To analyse the implications of translating a non-standardized data structure to openEHR

WARNING

The Cambio Platform Innovation is not a production service! Do not store any personal health information or any other sensitive or confidential information.
